Diplomatic Relations of the People's Republic of China and Taiwan<sup>1</sup>

Summary

As of November 15, 1992, China recognized and maintained diplomatic relations with 150 nations.<sup>2</sup> Since October 1991 China has exchanged diplomatic recognition with Armenia, Azerbaijan, Belarus, Croatia, Georgia, Israel, Kazakhstan, South Korea, Kyrgyzstan, Moldova, Russia, Slovenia, Tajikistan, Turkmenistan, Ukraine, and Uzbekistan. It has severed relations with Niger.

Taiwan currently is recognized by 29 nations, the same number as in October 1991. Most of the countries recognizing Taiwan are in Central America and the Caribbean, although South Africa and The Holy See also recognize Taiwan. In 1992 Niger recognized Taiwan; the Central African Republic did so in 1991. Taiwan severed relations with South Korea in August 1992 when South Korea recognized China.

<sup>1</sup> This report is an update of IRR-35, "Diplomatic Relations of the People's Republic of China and Taiwan," October 29, 1991.

2 China recognized the self-declared "state" of Palestine and established diplomatic relations with it on its declaration of "statehood" in November 1988. The U.S. does not recognize the self-declared "state" of Palestine.

China announced in April 1992 that it recognized "the continuity of Yugoslavia." The US view is that the Socialist Federal Republic of Yugoslavia has dissolved and none of the successor states represents its role continuation.
